Tulum Art Club

ABOUT

Tulum Art Club is a vital force in the art scene of the Yucatan region, blending contemporary pieces within the cultural context of Mexico. It was started with Residencia Gorila, an art residency and guest house located in Boca Paila, Tulum. We are a dynamic exhibition space, featuring emerging Mexican and International artists, while also boasting a cafe, event space and multimedia studio.

Tulum Art Club launched in January 2016 as the first contemporary art and culture space in the Riviera Maya to bridge the local communities with contemporary and social projects, and give visiting artists a chance to interact with the locals. <https://www.tulumartclub.com>

Cultural Events & Community

Tulum Art Club is not only the first artistic space of its kind in the Riviera Maya, but also hosts a number of charitable events that directly benefit the local community of Tulum. From musical gatherings to artistic talks, the space facilitates public dialogues which engage with critical awareness, social consciousness and important community topics. Weekly art workshops help maximize opportunities for personal interaction between our artists and non-artist neighbors, helping building community identity in the area.

GALLERY

Our gallery includes a selection of emerging Mexican and International contemporary artists, with pieces created in Tulum, as well as abroad. Each piece relates the vision of the artists through their story transformation, integration and collaboration with this magical community and creating the art exhibit in this gallery.

SPACE RENTAL

Tulum Art Club is the artistic hub of Tulum and the space is designed for multi-use purposes from hosting events, conferences, workshops as well as photo and film productions in an ample 350 M2 indoors and outdoors venue.

La Zebra

New York City’s Mulberry Project “Bespoke” Drink Masters bring their magic to Tulum for the third year with a pop-up on the beach at La Zebra

Jasper Soffer knows that a hot day at the beach calls for a cool, craft cocktail to complete the experience. Bringing back his internationally acclaimed Mulberry Project and its team of cocktail masters to Colibri Boutique Hotels La Zebra for the third year, Soffer is excited to create even more creative and personalized beverages for the hotel’s guests. In Tulum, Mulberry Project’s cocktails feature the local spirits and flavors of Mexico, highlighting mezcal, tequila and rum while adding a dose of mystery and intuition.

Just steps from the ocean, the pop-up on the sand offers a twist on cocktail culture.

Rather than ordering a pre-set cocktail from a list on a printed menu, guests at Mulberry Project at La Zebra select the liquor base that most appeals and “suggest” ingredients based on a chalkboard listing of market-fresh fruit, vegetables, herbs and spices available that day.

The third step is pure magic: guests describe the “type” of cocktail they like — refreshing, sweet, spicy, tropical, bitter, dry, smoky, herbal and more. Then it’s up to the drink masters to handcraft the perfect bespoke drink. It’s a performance perfectly set against a backdrop of crashing waves and soft sand.

We present the best culinary event 'Chef's Table' where Chef Eleazar Bonilla delights the senses with his 8 course tasting menus.

Taking traditional Mexican ingredients and recipes, Chef Bonilla then creatively and expertly transforms them into culinary creations for the modern table.

The menus are paired with signature cocktails, local artisanal beers, and show case some of the exquisite New World wines that Mexico now has on offer, resulting in a Mexican gastronomical experience for the true epicurean at heart!

Chef Bonilla and his team are your hosts for the evening. The air conditioned room itself is very comfortable with a homely candlelit ambiance and decorated with Mexican antiques. As it is adjoined to the kitchen, curtains can be opened at any stage of the evening to allow viewing of the kitchen and the Chef in action. The table can seat up to 8 people.

Upon entering, visitors are asked to slip off their shoes and “to interact with the floor as a living organism,” made from woven jungle vines that seamlessly flow into walls and ceilings made with smooth curved concrete and locally sourced wood. No trees were cut in the process of building and the organic structure is lifted off the ground to minimize site impact. Natural light filters into the building through spaced-out timber elements and large openings in the walls reinforced by transparent fiberglass. In addition to framed views of the jungle outside, plants grow inside the art gallery as well.
